Cynthia – Can you contact HQ and see if they would consider Upper Animas? You could fill them in on the issues and the reason that it is not yet listed but will likely need to be at some point. Thanks.

Hi Cynthia,

I could see Upper Animas benefiting at some point from this type of program. As you mentioned I'm not sure since it's not an NPL whether it would qualify or not for assistance. If you want to reach out to Margaret Ross for more details feel free. Some of the services they list are directly related to legal CI requirements for Superfund sites both others are not such as the community profile or the conflict assessment. If it's not something to be considered at the moment we should keep it in mind should it look like listing may take place in the future.

Thanks, Libby

HI, Libby.

Silverton comes to mind! However, since it isn't an NPL site, I'm not sure it would qualify. I do think it would be great to have this type of support on the ground floor, so to speak, as we continue to engage the community.

Cynthia

Dear Community Involvement Managers,

On our CI Everyone call the beginning of September, Margaret Ross discussed the FY15 Community Involvement as Conflict Prevention program. The EPA Conflict Prevention and Resolution Center (CPRC) is sponsoring this program to support regional Superfund community efforts in conducting community interviews, community profiles, and/or community involvement plans with the ultimate goal being to prevent conflict surrounding the cleanup of a Superfund site. CPRC will provide support for up to five community involvement work products in FY15.

I encourage those of you who have sites where you think this assistance could be beneficial to apply. The deadline for applying to receive support through this program is September 30. As far as I'm aware, CPRC has not received any proposals. If you have any questions or need more time to submit a proposal, please contact Margaret Ross in CPRC at (202) 564-3221.
